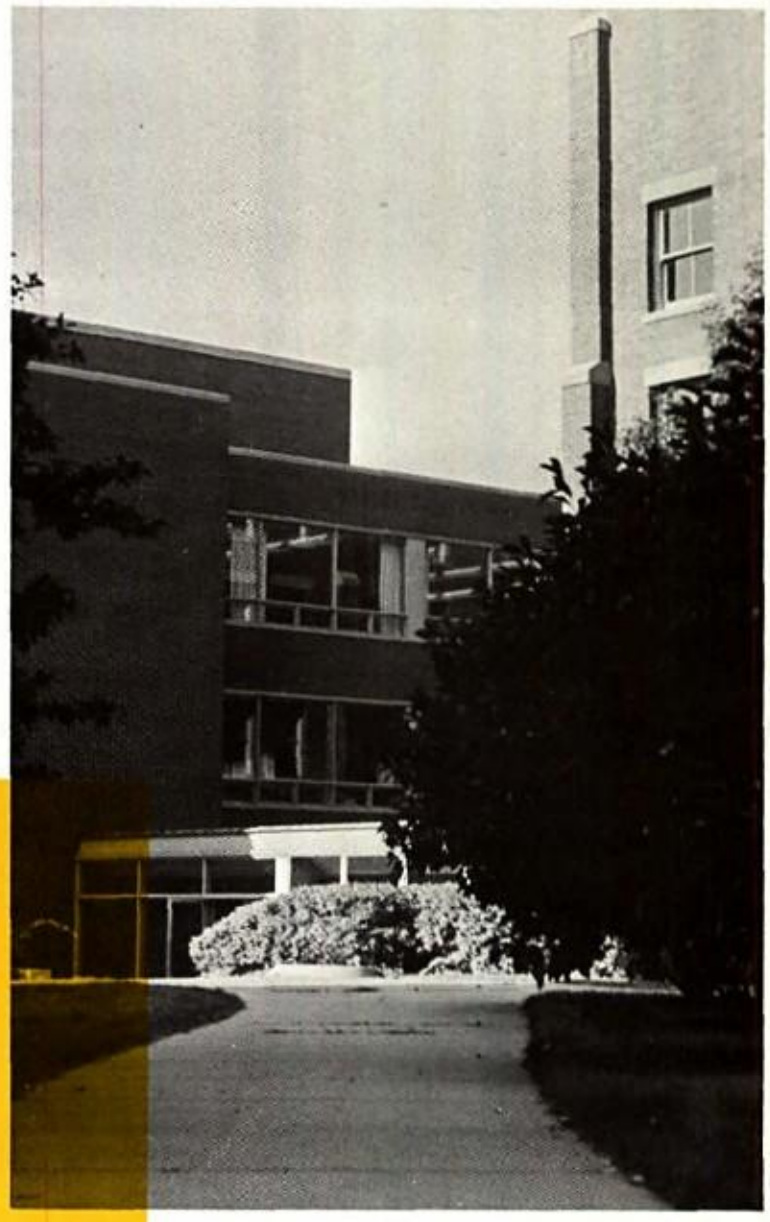
HIGHLAND PARK HIGH SCHOOL

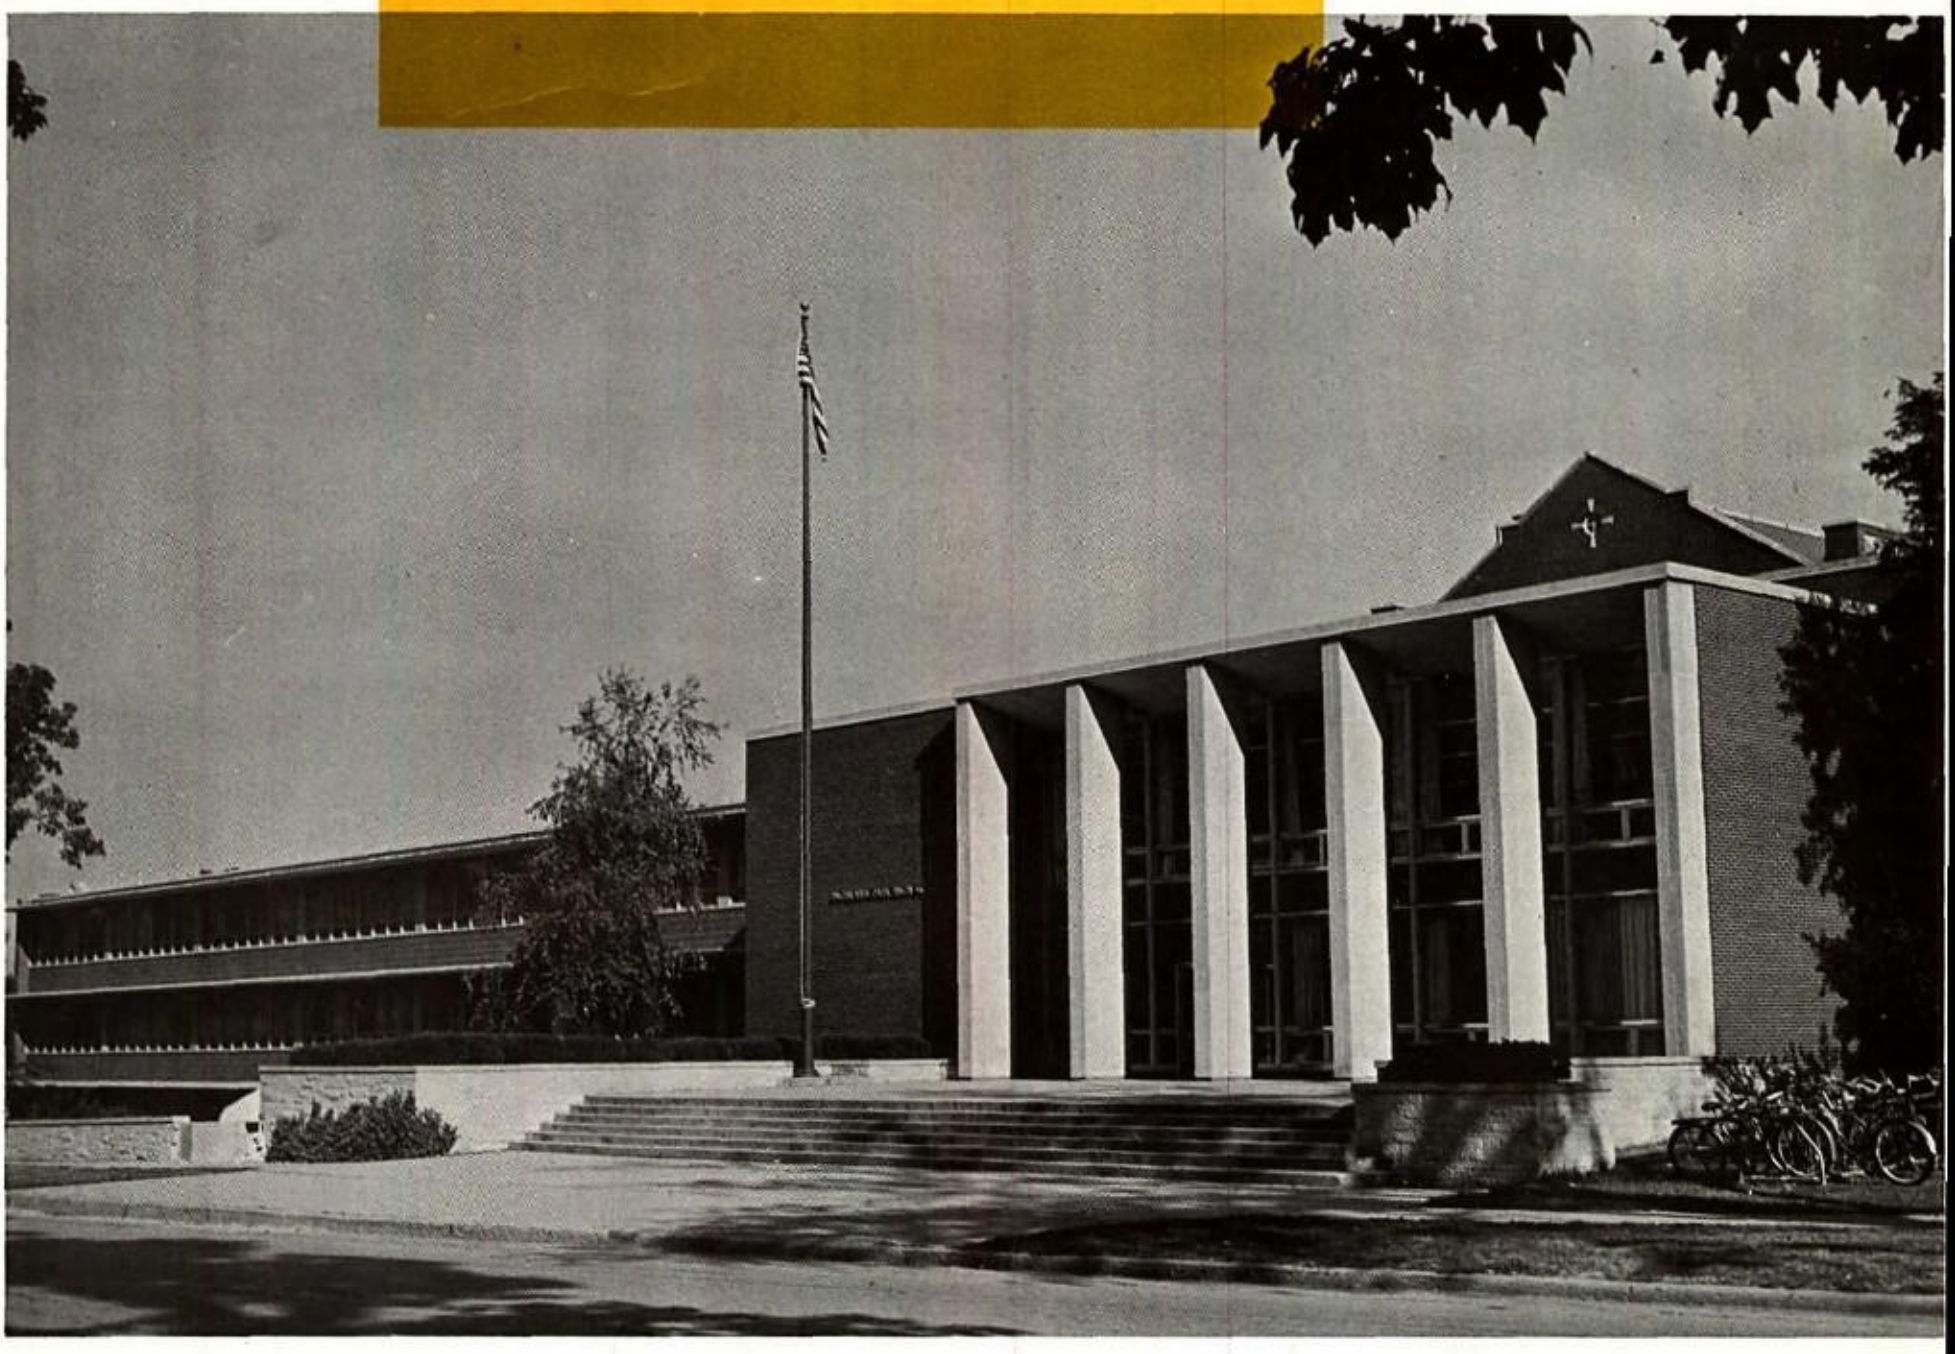
HIGHLAND PARK, ILLINOIS

Well —

What do you see?



School Life



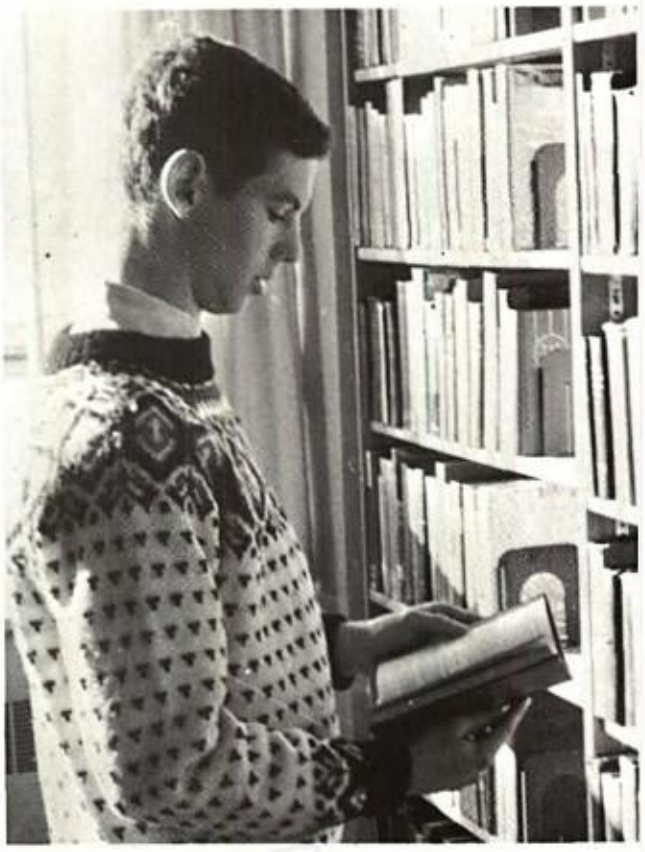
From a novel view

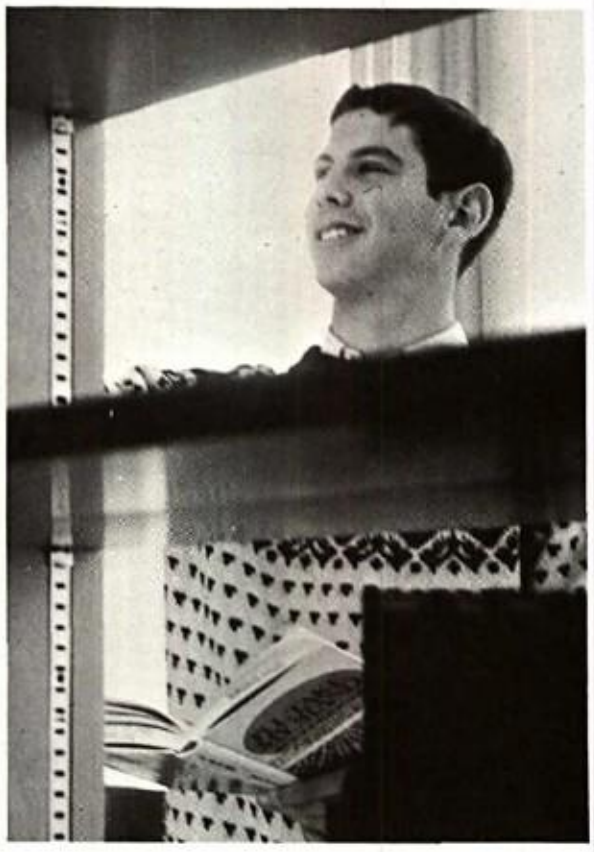
From Session Notices, Wed. Oct. 19

FRESHMEN: Your class is the only class in school where, with a few exceptions, the boys eat in the N. Cafe and the girls in the S. Cafe. As you should realize, both cafeterias are available to boys and girls.

From Session Notices, Thurs. Jan. 12

Many students could be on time for classes if they really tried. Visiting in the halls accounts for much tardiness. (Little Giant comment: Have you ever had typing in E-302 after gym?)

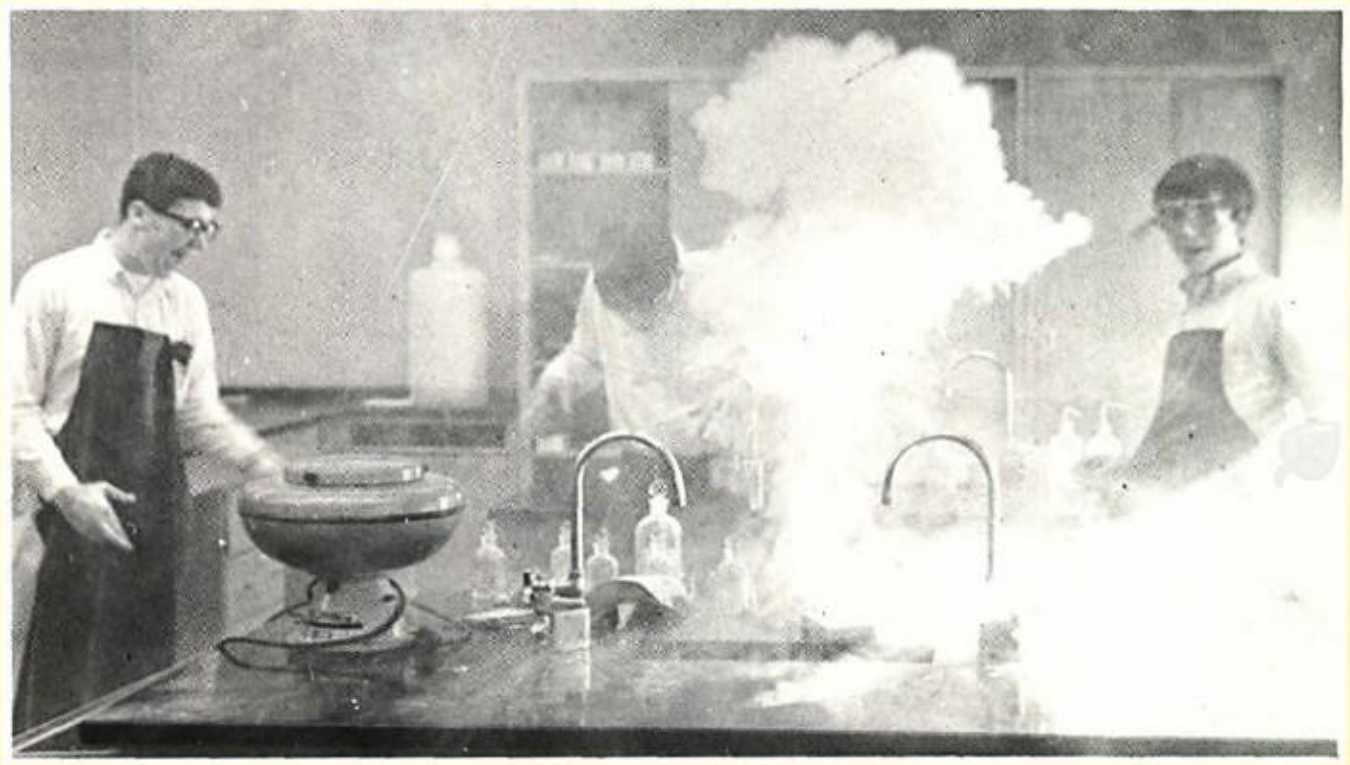




From Session Notices, Wed., Feb. 8

Students are reminded to keep their books, clothing, etc. in lockers at all times. Books left carelessly in the hall present an open invitation.

Study technique—senior style



Those with sharp memories will recall the pungent odor that pervaded the first floor one day this year.

Little Giant does not look through rose-colored glasses —

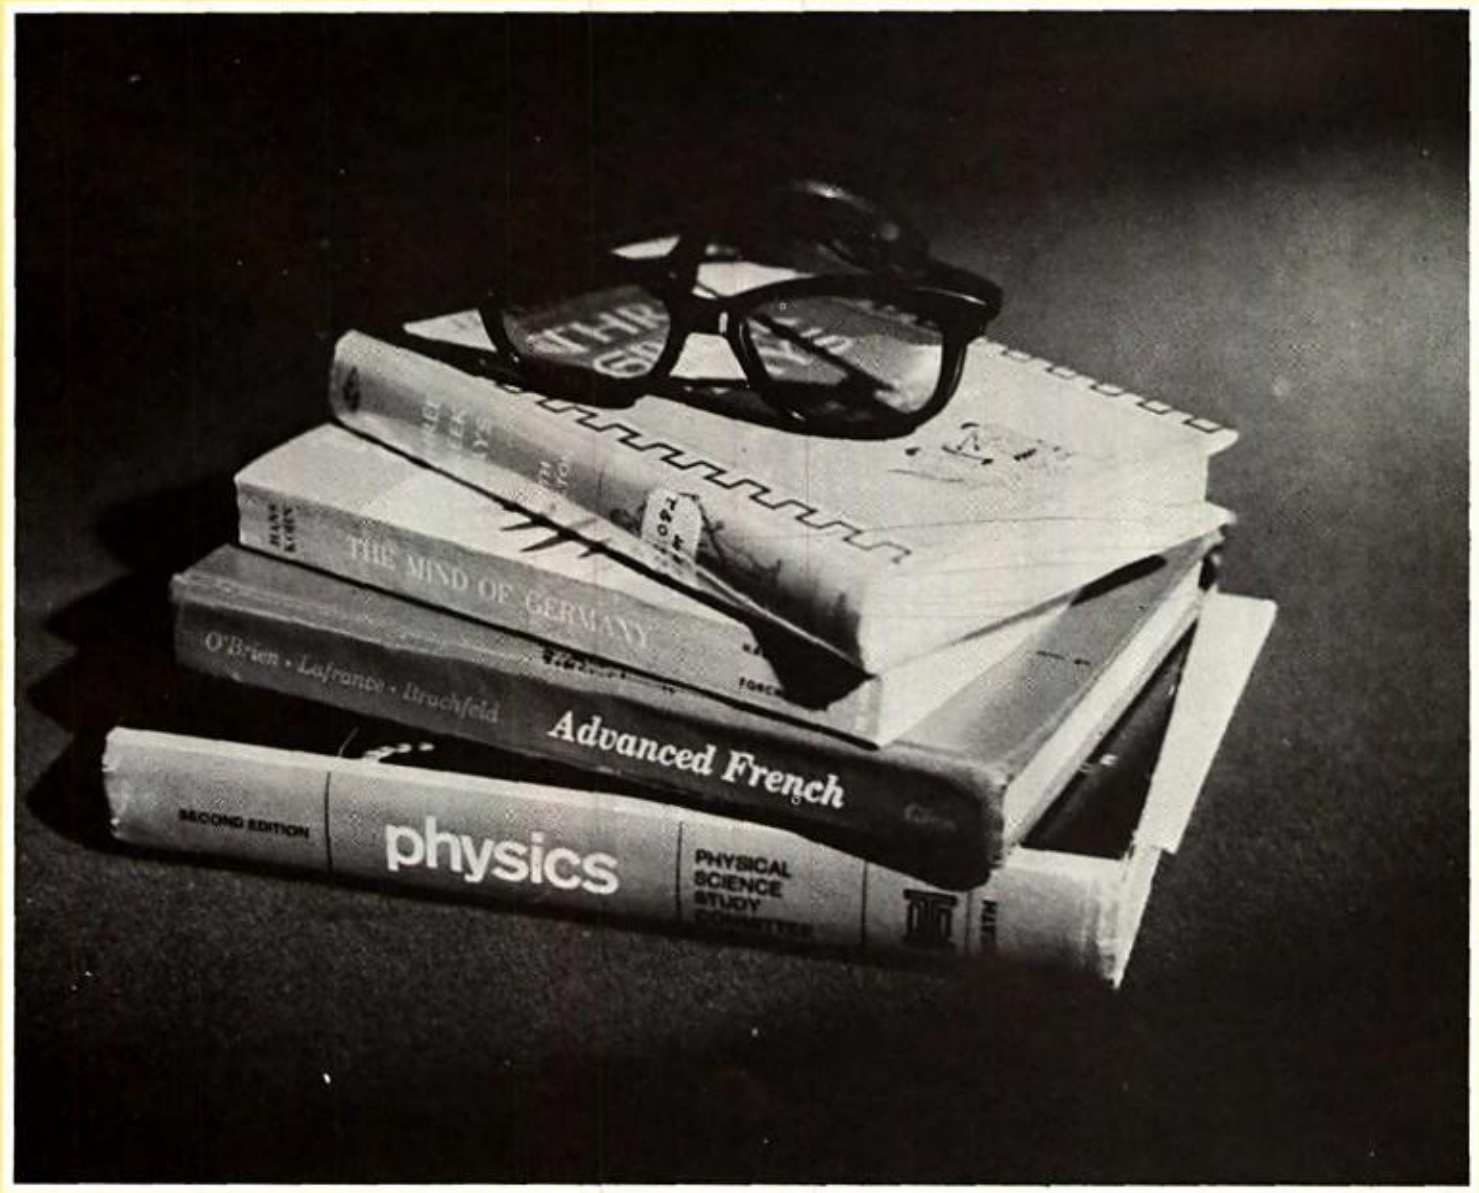
Nor Blue Shades



With the aid of a jest—
Yearbook '67 captures the wry and (admittedly) humorous side of HPHS

You see—
It all depends on how you look at it!

"But I assure you, sir, Maybelline is guaranteed not to run."

Orientation Assembly

The Garrick pyramid finds something dramatic attracting its attention.

At the beginning of each year, the upperclassmen gather to initiate innocent freshmen into the mysterious rites of the school's organizations. This fall's ritual, otherwise known as the Orientation Assembly, was held on September 14. Each club presented a skit in order to acquaint Frosh with school activities, and to attract new members. With the aid of various incantations, usually called songs, the program gave HPHS newcomers a genial glimpse of the school's crafty underground.

Hull House presents Until the Monkey Comes.

Star Lectures

In an effort to educate the seniors culturally, the Star Lecture Series was inaugurated this year by the new administration. Several programs, dealing with fine arts, were presented for the Senior Class by leading artists in the area. Harry Bouras, sculptor, began the Series with a lecture on creativity. Other presentations included a cutting from the play Until the Monkey Comes, staged by the Hull House Actors, a lecture on Modern Dance Form by Carol Russell and Shirley Genther, a recital by the Washington University Choir, and a talk on "Scene at Mind 60's" by Franz Sculzy, Daily News art critic.

It's Academic!

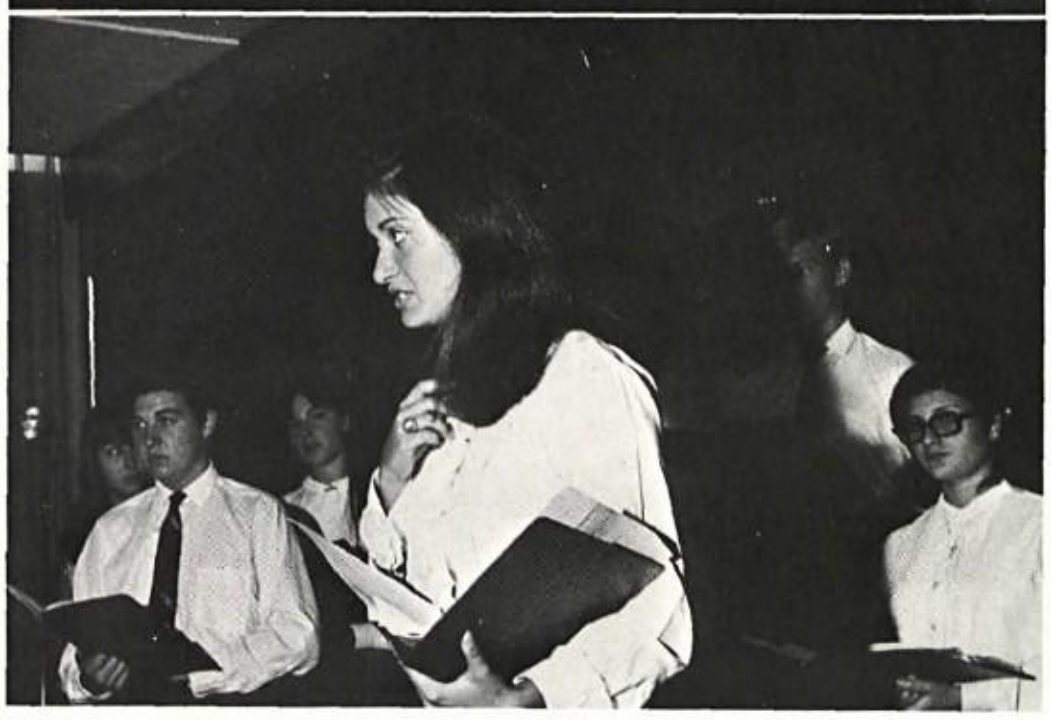
For the first time in Highland Park's history, the school entered competition on the television show, It's Academic. The members of the victorious "It's Epidemic" team were: Chuck Dawe, Lance Rodgers and Mark Lavin. Alternates were: Marcy Barack, Rick Grossman and Richard Kanter.

Winter Assembly

The Winter Concert this year represented many hours of ork. In keeping with the Holiday Season the orchestra, con-cted by Mr. Haberland, gave a fine performance of "Nut-acker Suite" by Tschaikovsky, and Treble Clef presented "A radle Song" by Parke. In addition, Senior Choir performed "Christmas Song" by Torme, under the direction of Mr. Albin. The Madrigal Singers also presented several selections. The program this year was a varied one except for the traditional ending of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

John Brown's Body

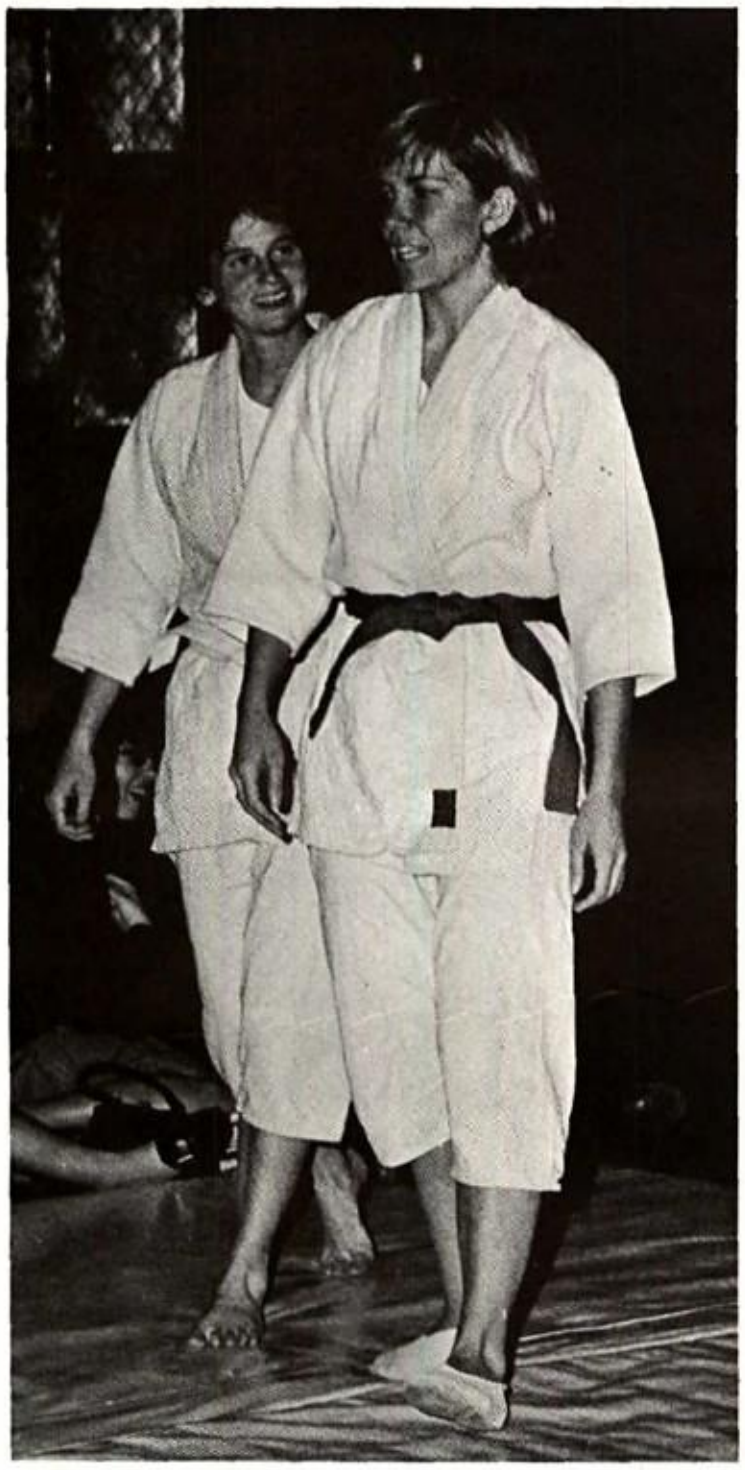
The combined drama classes presented an oral interpretation of Stephen Vincent Benet's poem, John Brown's Bod. The reader's theater production used skeleton props and make-up. The basic chorus supplied the narration, as well as the principal actors, in this unique saga of the Civil War.



Nancy Meserow plays Mary Lou Wingate, symbol of Southern womanhood.

Judo Demonstration

Miss Carol Nations and Miss Bonnie Haskett performed the "gentle sport," judo, for several gym classes this fall. They demonstrated preliminary exercises before entering into "courteous" combat. All agreed it was a unique show.



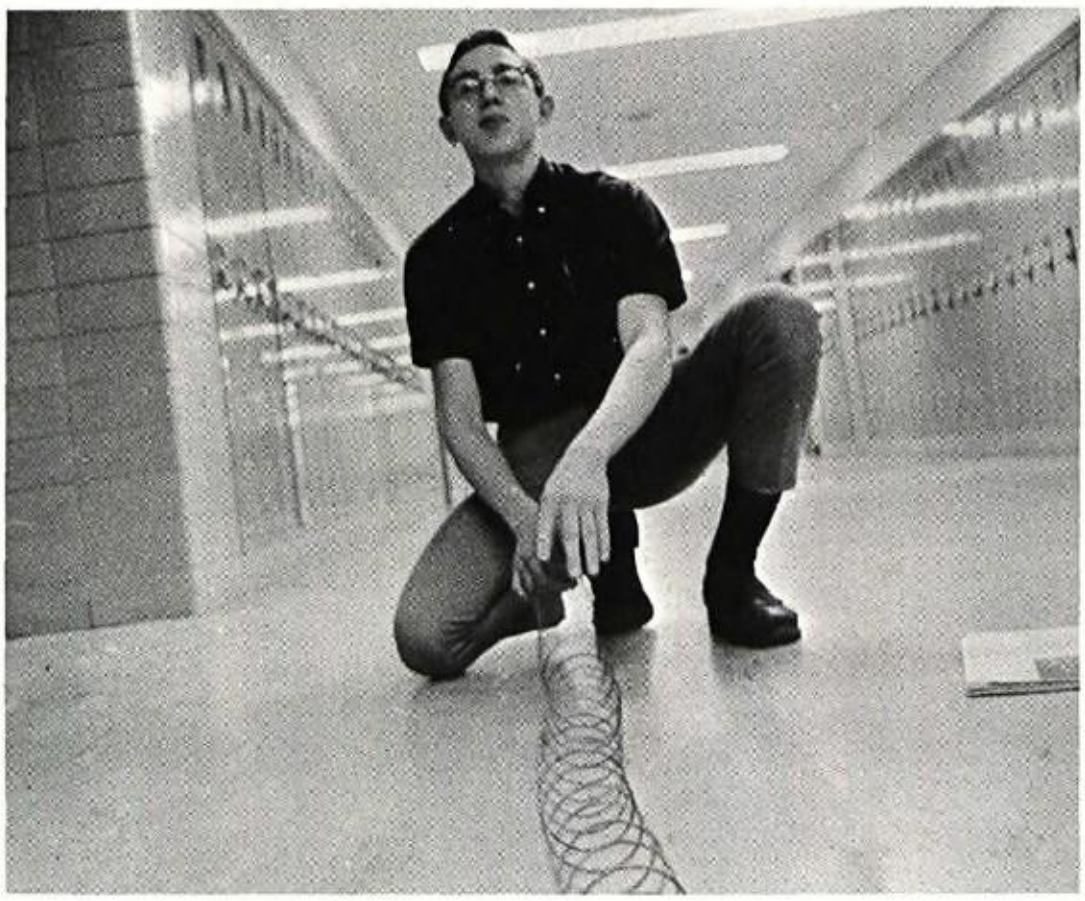
. . . Oomph!

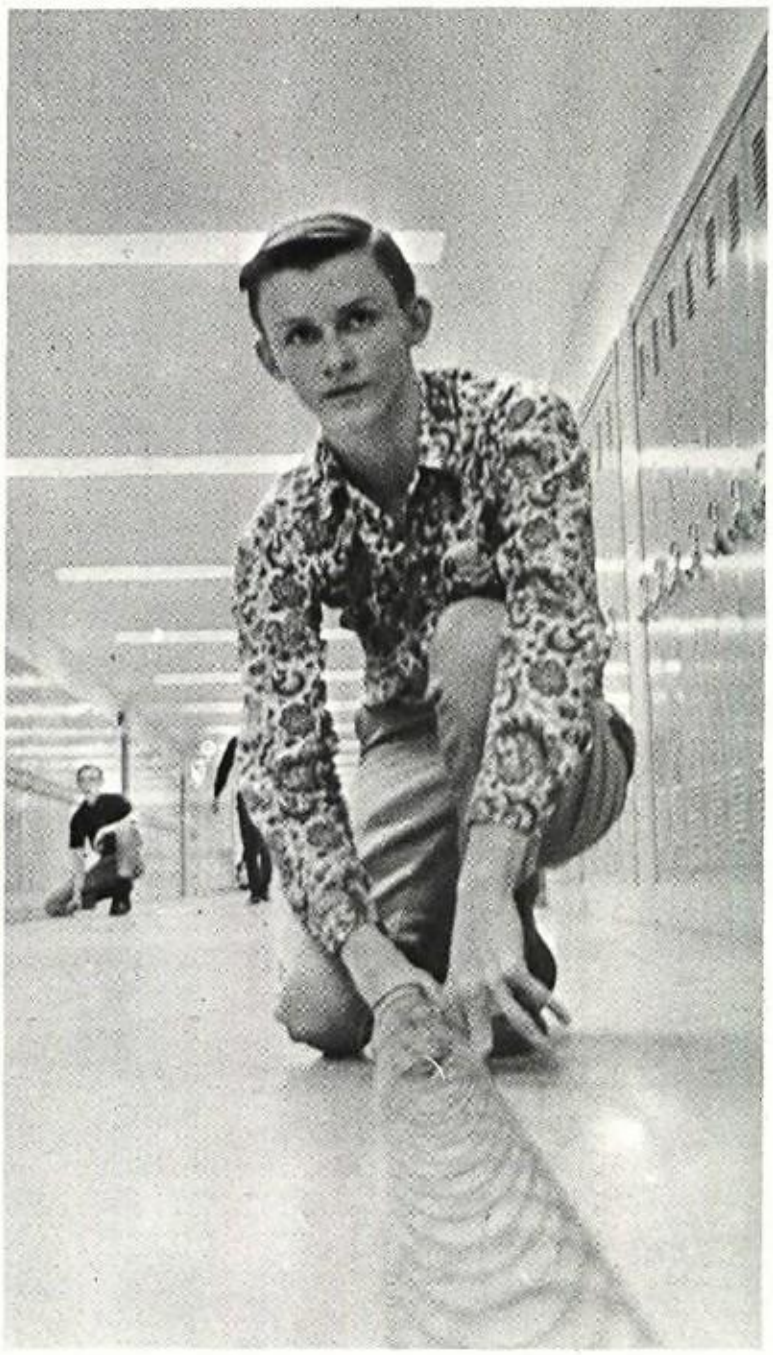
Think Snow!

Jan. 26-28 left Highland Park in a novel predicament—paralyzed. One of the biggest snow storms of the century descended on the unsuspecting town. Transportation and communication were disabled, while Sunset and Jewel-Osco were bombarded by frantic mothers hoarding milk and bread (pity the poor store clerks!). Isn't it a shame that we were out of school for semester break?

Slinky Experiment

Physics classes at Highland Park give students the opportunity to exercise their little-known talents—like throwing slinky toys down the corridor. During the first week in March, Mr. Hanson and Mr. Martin's classes spent their lab periods observing wave characteristics on the floor of the guidance department hallway. The experiment proved to be a good learning experience, especially when it came to untangling slinkies and cleaning dusty posteriors.





After the snow storm, Peg Reuler found she had to dig herself out.

Homecoming Weekend

The Snake Dance slithers through town.

The natives are restless.

Umgowa!

Charge!

The finished product!

The fate of the masterpiece.

From window-painting on Friday to window-washing on Sunday, Homecoming weekend was a flurry of activity. A Snake Dance through town finished with the traditional Friday evening Pep Rally, highlighted by the appearance of Highland Park's first Homecoming Queen, Carol Gordon. Anticipation ran high for the Saturday game, but despite a valiant effort, the Little Giants went down to defeat at the hands of the Wildkits. Nonetheless, all agreed that the weekend was truly UMGOWA!

An Unconventional Show

Stunts '66 was a tradition-breaking show. All the script and music was written by students. A sophisticated production in humor and staging, "Nightlife" focused on various human diversions from dusk to dawn. For the first time, capacity audiences witnessed a complete opera, "La Travestia"; the rebirth of vaudeville by prudent students Betsy Stern and Marcy Barack; and a serious monologue by Ken Finder. "The Decline and Fall of the Sun as Seen Through the Eyes of Iconoclasts" was a credit to the creativity of the class of '67.

Girls' Club Mother-Daughter Banquet

"Now, Herbie, you go down to the garbage can on 34th street . . ."

How're you gonna keep them down on the farm after they've been East?

"Color Her Mom"

The Girls' Club Mother-Daughter banquet, held this year on Thursday, December 13, contributed as usual to familial harmony. Entitled "Color Her Mom," the evening paid tribute to the trials of mothering a teenager. A delicious dinner of spaghetti and french bread, (deathly on the waistline), was followed by a series of skits as entertainment. Even the mothers got into the act as they complained, for a change, about their daughters. Decorations, in keeping with the theme, were done in bright colors and geometric designs, blending well with the cheerful atmosphere of the affair.

H.G.A. Initiation

Torches in their hands, the HGA initiates stood expectantly before taking the pledge which made them official members of the club. In order to be an initiate, a girl had to earn 15 points by attending the after school sports offered in the HGA intramural program. Huga, the HGA frog, watched it all attentively.

A.F.S. Weekend

Foreign Exchange students participate in panel discussions for the P. T. A. and the student body.

On March 2, twenty-six American Field Service gelehrten, from all over the world, arrived à la lycée to participate in Highland Park's annual AFS Weekend. After eating pranzo with their American ejercitos, some of the students spoke at an ouvert PTA meeting, describing their native customs and previous misconceptions of les Etats-Unis. The rest of los alumnos spoke at an all-school assemblea Friday morning. After visiting the classes throughout the day, the AFS'ers relaxed cette nuit at the outstanding performance of Brigadoon. Next, the whole AFS committee escorted their guests to una fiesta at Robin David's haus where the foreign exchange students were bombarded with fragen from all sides. Saturday mattina Wendy Bay hosted the farewell brunch.

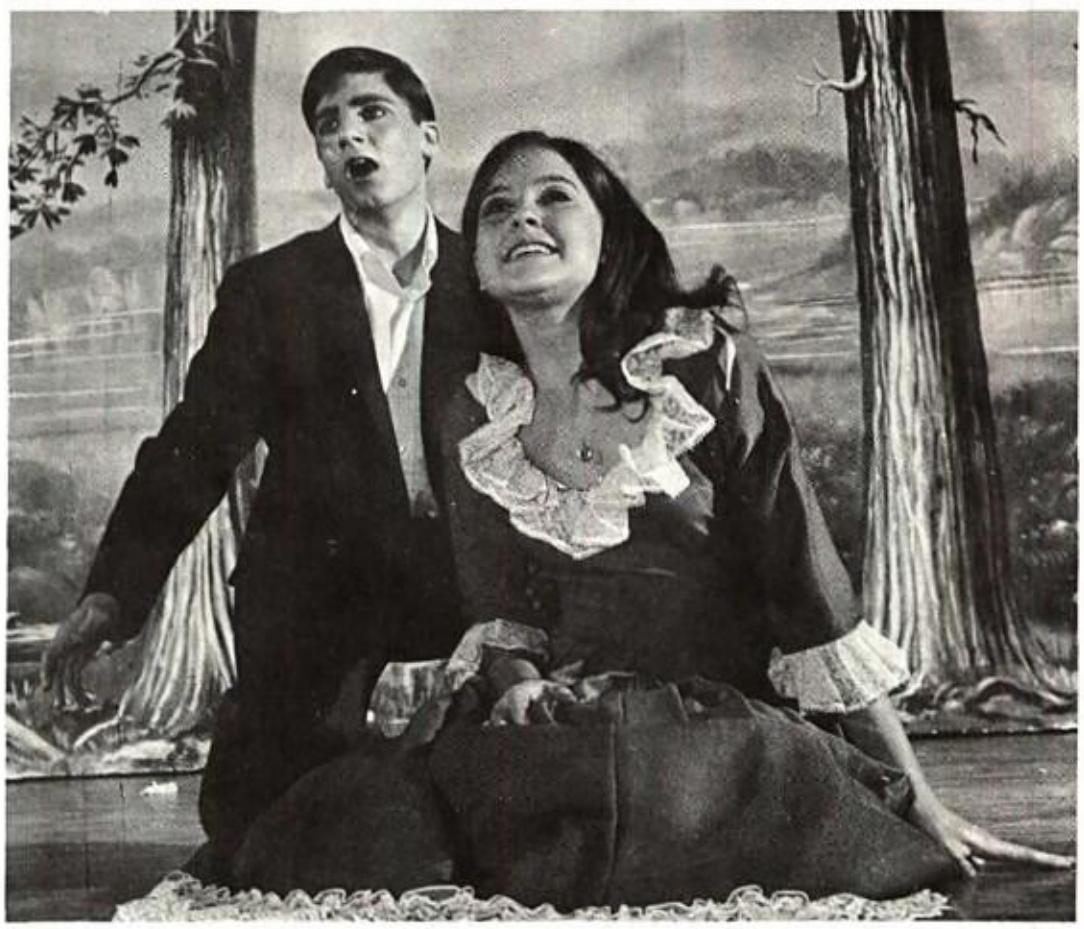
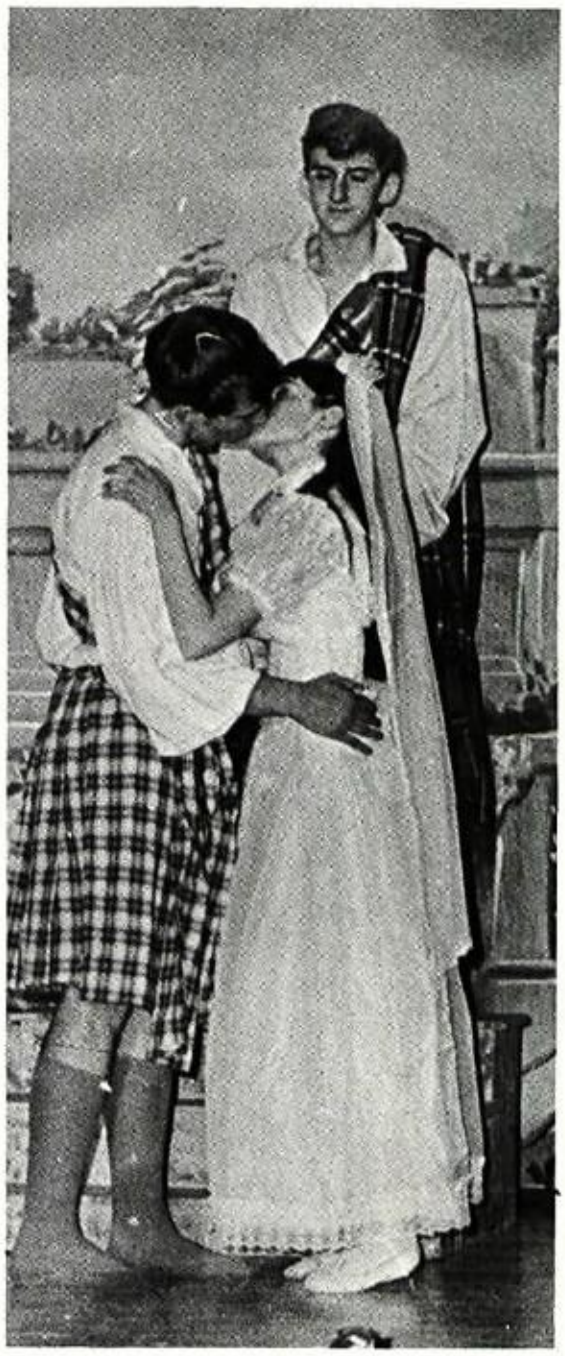
Brigadoon

Lynn Reisler as Fiona "waitin for her dearie", as the village lassies gaze on.



Dan Shapiro as Tommy, and Jill Stein as Fiona, in "The Heather on the Hill."

Universally acclaimed as the best musical ever produced in Highland Park, Brigadoon justified the expense of renting colorful Broadway sets and costumes. On Friday, the cast confounded visiting AFS'ers by wearin' their plaid sashes t'class. Fiona was played by Jill Stein and Lynn Reisler; Tommy, by Dan Shapiro and Larry Rubenstein; Jeff, by Dave Simons and Ken Finder; Meg, by Gail Hirsch and Suzy Eckman; Charlie, by Warren Nelson and Scott Hanson; Jeanie, by Jan Michell and Marilyn Scher; Mr. Lundie was done by Mark Lavin; Mr. Beaton, by Lance Rodgers; Mr. McClaren, by Jon Straus; and Jon Brent stole the show as the ill-fated Harry Beaton. From the moment bagpipes filled the air, the audience was lost in a mist o'the Scottish Highlands. A beautiful scrim transition from forest to valley revealed the village o'Brigadoon, complete with goat, collie, and (to the boys' chagrin) kilts. The delightful love story, set against the background of drama and humor, left the audience with a bonny good feelin', and a bit of a Scottish brogue.



"There's Goin' Ta Be A Wed'n . . ."

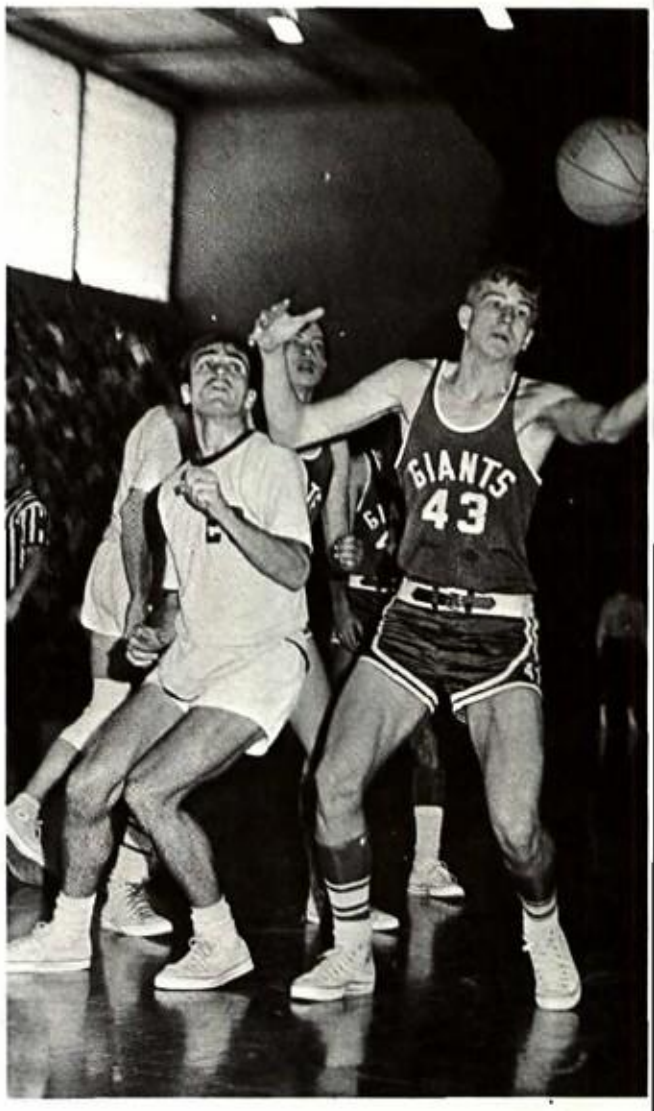
Dr. Munski gets the scoop.



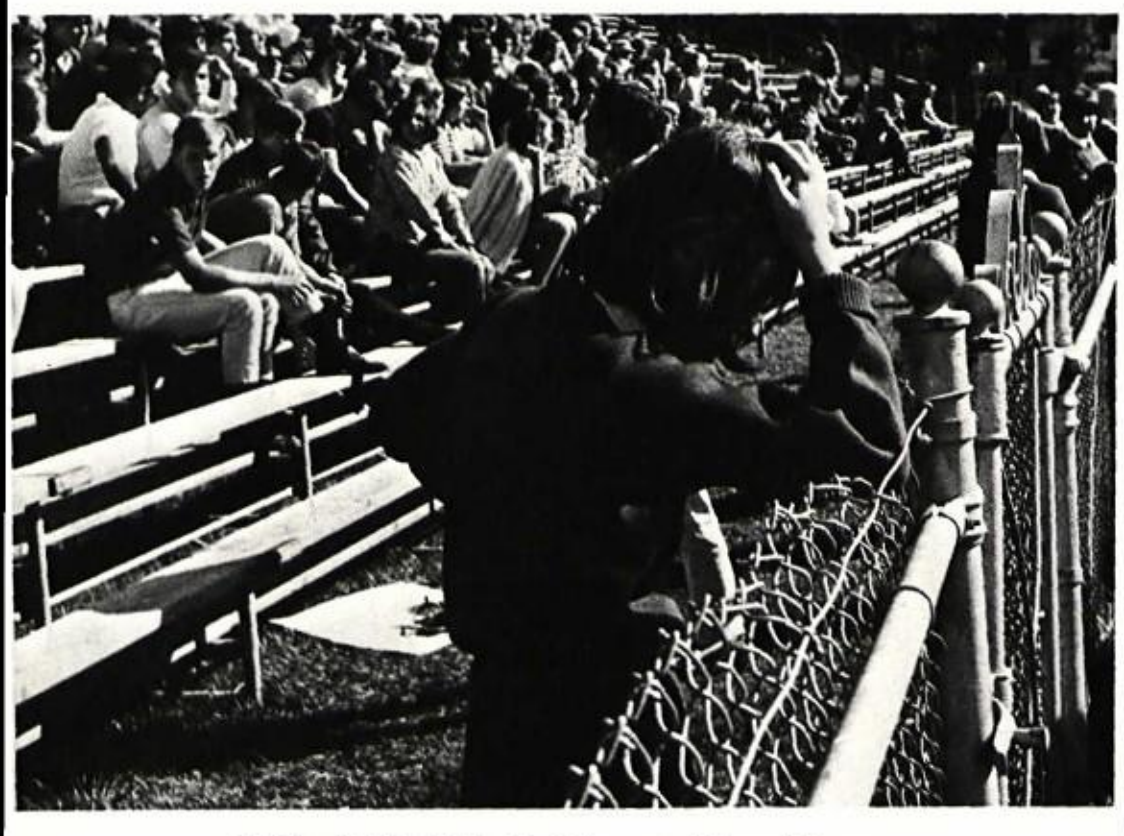
The other players looked on as Brad Lind lunged queasily for the ball.

Faculty-Student Basketball

In a telling game, the faculty of HPHS proved its athletic prowess as a select group of hardy teachers beat the varsity basketball team 52-44. Stars on both sides battled it out with vigor, while the student body cheered them on (of course—the game was held during school time!). Cheering came from another sector, too—the women gym teachers, bedecked in appropriate sweaters, gave full-voiced support to their cohorts. Their cheers were novel, to say the least.

No tension-packed contest is complete without adequate press coverage. Dr. Munski, straight from the Shoreline city desk, did a splendid job of reporting the scoop. Although as yet unconfirmed, rumor says that the faculty is scheduled to play the Boston Celtics next year.

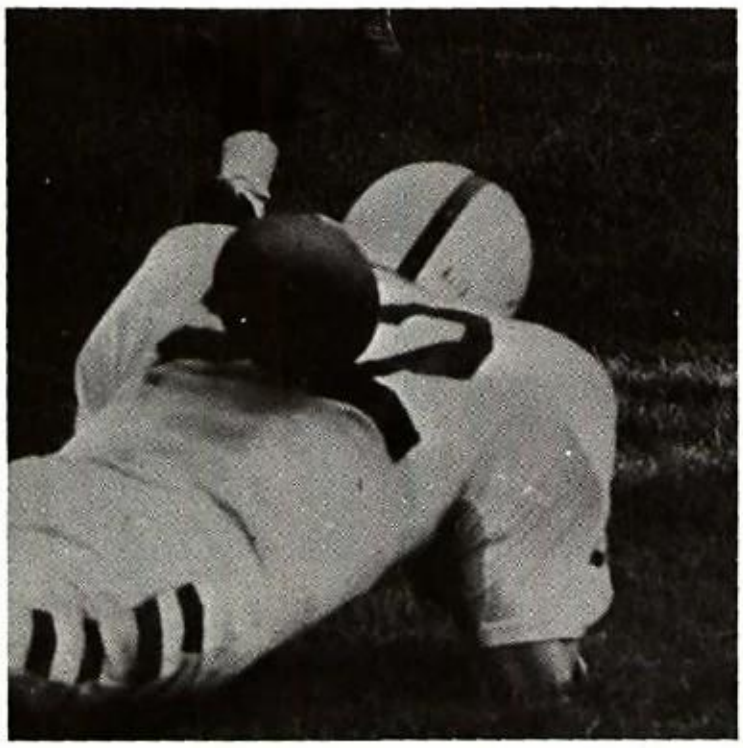
Guess which hand?



Highland Park athletics had its ups and downs this year.

SPORTS

Football



Highland Park tries a field goal.

HEAD COACH JOHN CHICKERNEO had only a fair season in 1966, but when it was all over he boasted, "This was the most courageous team I have ever coached." The varsity won three games and lost four in the Suburban League, placing fifth. Bob Sedik and Steve Steinberg, who scored eleven of Highland Park's fourteen TD's, were both named to the All-Suburban League team, and John Wetsel and Dave Knapp received honorable mention. Sedik threw nine touchdown passes, six of them to Steinberg, and ran for five TD's himself. On defense, Wetsel and Knapp made nearly half of the team's tackles.

There was plenty of excitement and tension this year. The final thirty seconds could have changed the results of both the Waukegan and Morton games. Lee Barnett brought down the Morton quarterback at the 1-yard line after time had run out. Then there was the New Trier game. The Giants were losing 12-0 with only six and a half minutes to play. Then it happened. Bob Sedik hit Steve Steinberg with two long touchdown passes, and Highland Park upset powerful New Trier 13-12.

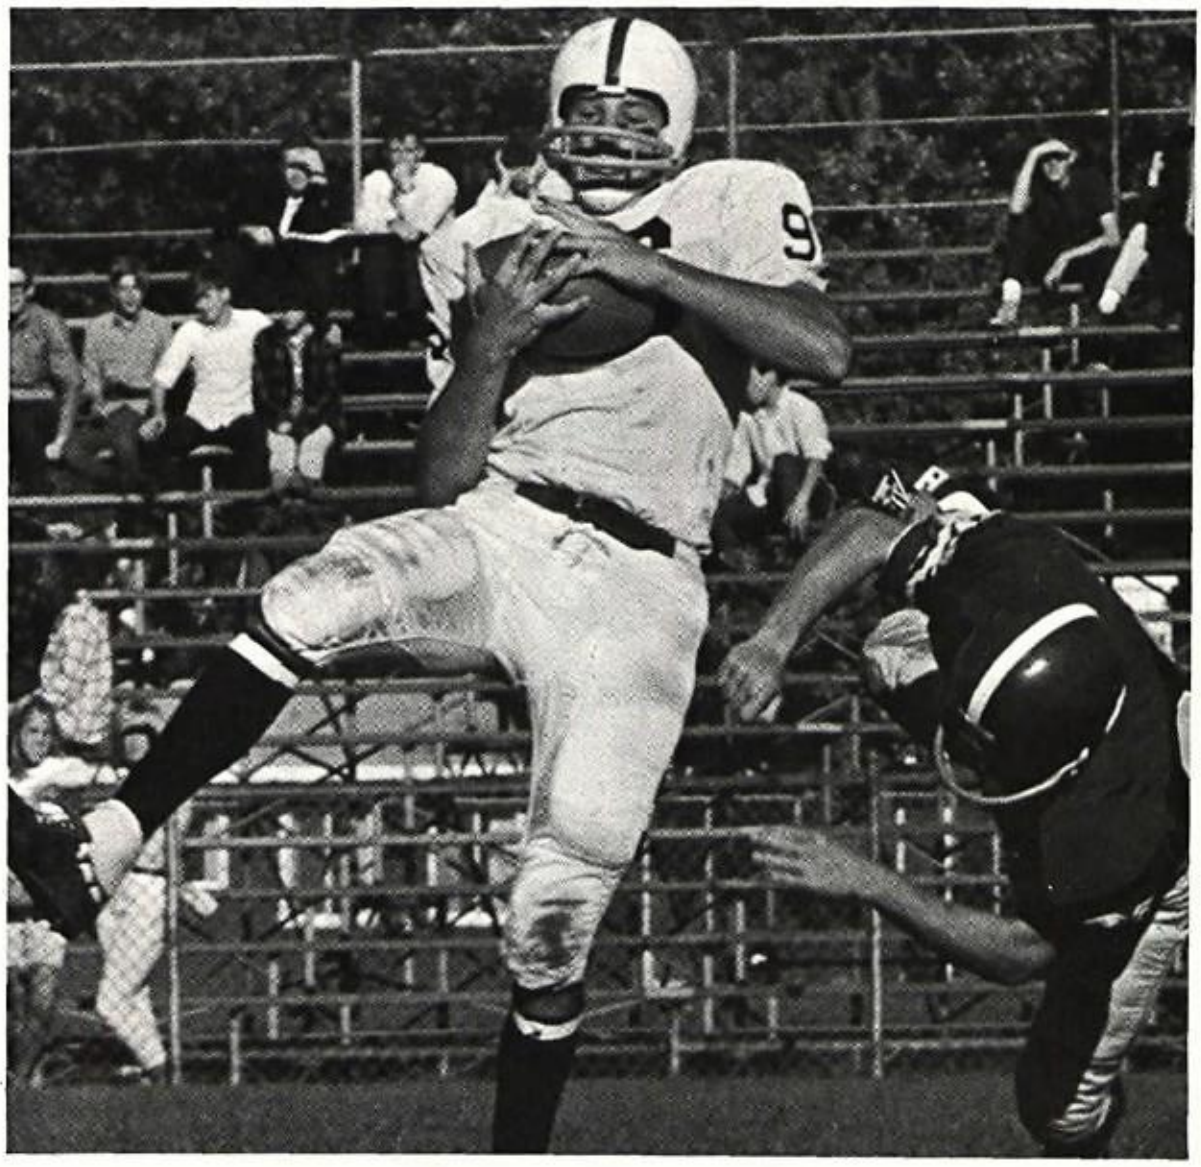
Quarterback Bob Sedik gambled and ran on fourth down with less than thirty seconds to go in the game. He made the first down with no trouble, and New Trier never got a "last chance."



Steve Steinberg grabbed this twenty-six yard pass from Bob Sedik and dragged three men to the end zone with him, falling across the goal line to tie the score with only 3:56 left in the final quarter.

Head Coach John Arreazola could be quite proud of his 1966 sophomores. The team posted a record of three wins, three losses, and one tie, finishing third in the Suburban League. Against New Trier, the sophs were losing 6-0 until the fourth quarter, when Sam Bertucci scored, and tall Kim Hammerberg plunged across for the extra point. A stellar defensive effort stopped a last great drive by the Indians. All the boys dug in at Waukegan. The Bulldogs had a first down at the Little Giant 3-yard line, but a terrific goal line stand prevented a Waukegan score. Waukegan was close to the goal once more, but George Abrahams intercepted a pass in the end zone, and ran it back a spectacular 103 yards for a Highland Park TD. The Giants ended up on top 13-3. The sophomores needed a victory at Niles to take third place, and they won handily 21-0. Steve Olson threw a touchdown pass, and Gary Wait played brilliantly on the line.

The freshman football team, under the guidance of Head Coach Fred Harris, racked up an impressive 5 and 2 league record in 1966. The youngest Giants placed second in the Suburban League behind undefeated Evanston. Although it was a losing effort, the game against Evanston was the most exciting of the year. Through the first three quarters, the Wildkits were winning 12-0. But in the final quarter, the Baby Giants came to life. A Highland Park touchdown made the score 12-6. Evanston nearly scored again, as they drove all the way to the Highland Park 10-yard line. Only a fine defense kept the Evanston team out of the end zone. When the Giants took over, they promptly marched fifty-five yards downfield to the Evanston 35-yard line, but by the time they got there, less than a minute remained. With thirty seconds left, a desperation fourth down pass fell incomplete, and Highland Park never got the ball again.

1966 was a disappointing year for the varsity cross country team. The harriers, set back by the loss of a fine runner, Charley Cochran, at mid-season, could only manage one tie in dual meet competition. John Hinde, senior, was consistently the top performer for the Parkers. Hinde set a new course record at Waukegan and came within one second of tying the Highland Park course record.

Wrestling

The big news in wrestling this year was Joe Tobin. Joe was the only member of the Highland Park team to go downstate, and he placed fourth in his weight class in the state competition. Senior Eric Moss might also have qualified to travel downstate, but he injured his shoulder shortly before the district meet.

The Little Giant varsity wrestlers had a 2-5 record in dual meets, which earned them sixth place in the Suburban League. This season was the first time since before the Class of 1967 entered high school that Highland Park has won a varsity dual meet in the Suburban League.

Several of the team's top wrestlers will return next year, including Tobin, so the Little Giant wrestling future is beginning to look brighter.

Basketball

Head Coach Fred Dickman had the tallest team he has ever had in his eight years at Highland Park, but it was also the youngest. Six foot five inch junior center Brad Lind played every game, flanked by sophomores Kim Hammerberg and Art Elliot, both 6'4". Seniors Steve Steinberg, 6'3", and Jim Friedman, 6'1", saw considerable action at guard. Minnie Scornavacco, a 5'6" senior guard, made up for his height disadvantage by being one of the finest ball handlers and playmakers in the league.

Brad Lind ran away with the Suburban League scoring championship, pouring in 337 points. The varsity ranked third in offense in the conference, totalling 911 points in fourteen games. Brad Lind was the sole junior named to the All-Conference first team, and Steve Steinberg was given honorable mention.

Next year looks particularly bright for the Little Giants. Junior Mickey Cousin, an excellent shooter and dribbler, will have a good chance to start at guard. Any of half a dozen sophomores might also play guard, and the Junior Varsity team, coached by Milo Gasper, also has some fine players to offer. With a solid nucleus of three tall, experienced players—Kim, Art, and Brad—the 1967-1968 Little Giants should be the best in years.

In his first year at Highland Park, sophomore coach Charles Schramm was faced with the difficult problem of coaching a team on which the tallest man was only 6'2". The sophomores finished sixth in the Suburban League with a conference record of 4-10, and an overall mark of 7-11.

The team's playmaker was 6'1" guard Steve Olson, who was also a valuable rebounder. The other guard was George Abrahams, who was a fine outside shooter. The two forwards were David Ori, the leading scorer for the team, and Jim Bernardi, an outstanding defensive player. The best rebounder on the team was six foot David Kaye, the shortest center in the Suburban League.

In the most exciting game, the hapless Little Giants were trailing the league-champion Waukegan Bulldogs by a score of 35-9 at halftime. Ashamed of their first half performance, the sophomores came out and ran over Waukegan 43-19 in the second half, losing by only a single basket, 54-52. The crowd gave a standing ovation and earsplitting roars of approval, in spite of the loss. It was that kind of team effort that prompted Coach Schramm to boast, "I was proud of my team for never giving up and always hustling."

The freshman A team, coached by Robert Masters, was the only Little-Giant basketball team to sport a winning record in the 1966-1967 season. The frosh A squad posted a 6-5 Suburban League record, and won all three non-conference games for an enviable 9-5 record overall. Coach Masters' team finished fifth in the conference, but was only a game out of third place. Waukegan was first. Coach Masters commented that all the members of his team were fine passers and shooters.

Coach John Scornavacco's freshman B team won five and lost six in league play, and won two out of three non-league games. The team finished fourth in the Suburban League—higher than any other Little Giant basketball team finished this season. Coach Scornavacco said the team's style of play was "ball control and a hustling defense."

Chip Mills attempted to swallow the boys' pool in a single gulp.

Swimming

The Highland Park varsity swimming team had another fine year, tying with Waukegan for third place in the Suburban League. The team had a 4-3 dual meet record in the conference, and was undefeated in four non-conference meets. The varsity took third in the league meet, and went on to place sixth in the district and eighteenth in the state, marking the eleventh time in twelve years that the team has placed in the state meet. Highland Park owes much of its consistent success to the rigid discipline and long experience of Head Coach Don Davis.

The varsity Little Giants broke four school records. Chip Mills was fifth in the state in the 100 yard free style with his record time of 50.5 seconds. Norm Frauenheim broke school records in both the 100 yard butterfly and the 200 yard individual medley. Frauenheim and Mills teamed up with juniors Chuck Sarkady and Rick Schuster to establish a new school record in the medley relay.

On the junior level six school records were broken. Chip Mills set new records in the 50 yard and 100 yard freestyle events. Chuck Sarkady broke the 100 yard breaststroke record, and the team of Mills, Schuster, Sarkady, and Ballanger posted a new junior record in the medley relay.

With so many superb juniors to lead the team next year, the 1967-1968 swimming season promises to be even better than this year.

Sophomores

The sophomore swimming team, coached by Chuck Thomson, Finished fourth in the Suburban League with a 4-3 dual meet record. The team was paced by Tom Jacobson in the 200 yard freestyle, and by the medley relay team of Paul Liebenson, Larry Anspach, Tom Leahy, and Paul Caldarelli.

Freshmen

The freshman team, under the coaching of Fred Harris and Chuck Thomson, was third in the Suburban League behind New Trier and Evanston. The team's overall dual meet mark was 8-2. Darryl Schoenstadt was the team leader. He set a new freshman school record in the 100 yard butterfly, and won the conference diving title at the freshman level.

The 1967 varsity baseball team was so outstanding that early in the season Coach Jay Sanders called them "potential Suburban League and State Champions." Defense was the team's forte, while hitting and pitching remained strong. Next year looks just as promising. Juniors Pat Baker, Marty Stein, Mike Rogan, Dugan Rosalini, and Mike Sarkady, in the starting lineup this year, will provide a solid nucleus for the 1968 season.

Track

Middle distance was the word for the 1967 Parker track squad. The Little Giants were led by three returning members of the mile relay team which took seventh in the state meet last year: Charlie Cochran, Lee Barnett, and Dick Weinberg. Adding vital depth to the thinclads in the sprints and quarter mile departments were seniors Bill Mack and Ralph Gibson, and junior Ron Rosedale. The sophomores contributed to our fine middle distance strength, too, with Mark Rosenbaum and Rick Melvoin, who finished 3-4 in the sophomore Suburban League quarter mile.

Although the '67 varsity was terribly weak in the field events, next year's squad should be helped tremendously by the fine crop of sophomores this year. Gary Wait in the shot put, Rosenbaum and Melvoin in the long jump, and Dan Harrington and returning junior Bob Nachman in the high jump should make Highland Park considerably more dangerous in the field events next year.

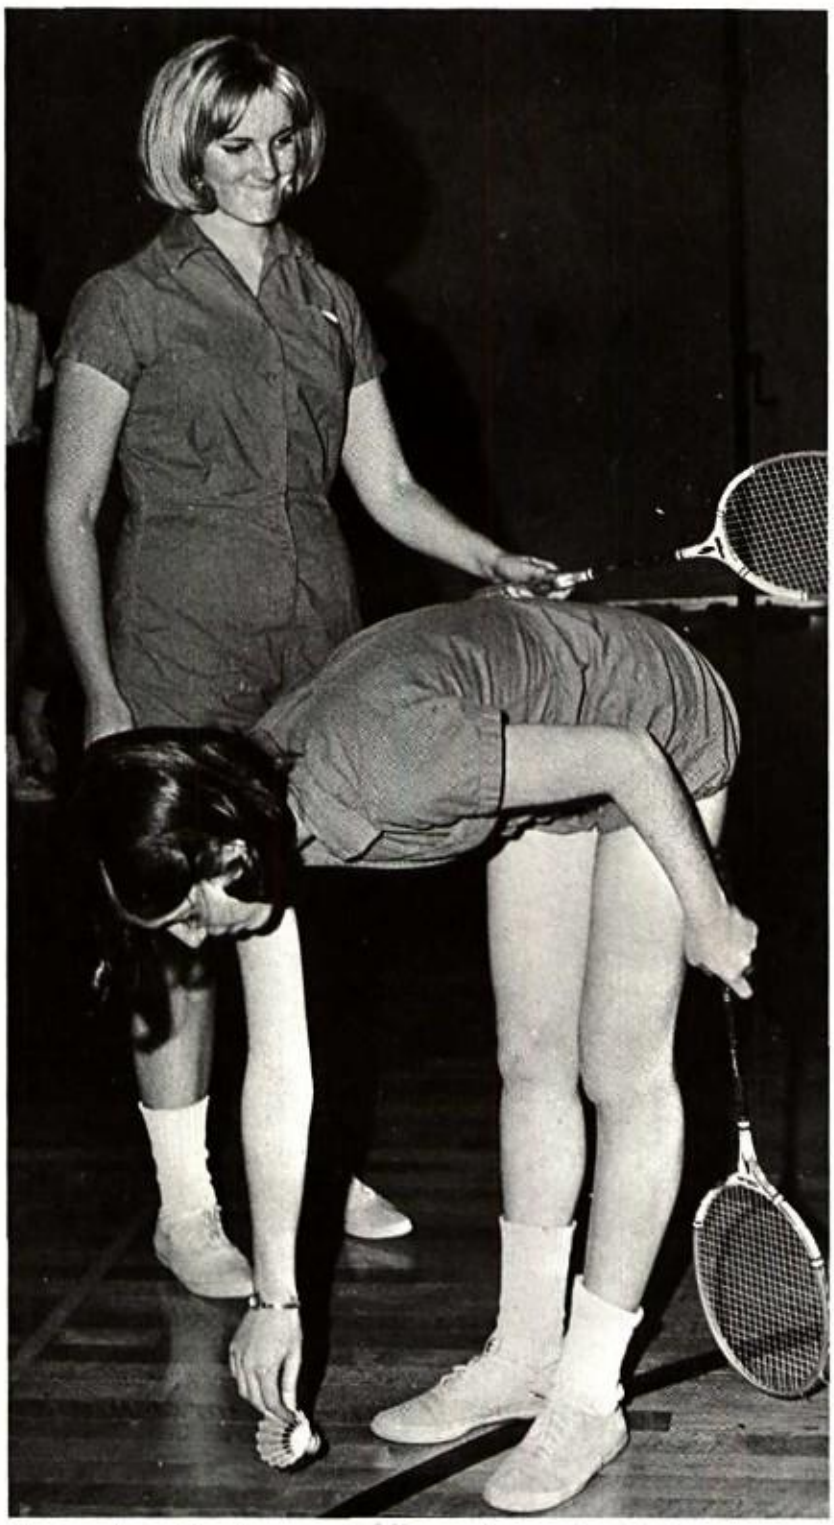
Girls' Sports

The Girls' Physical Education Department wracked up a smashing record in competition this year. Athletic meets, held daily from 8:30 to 3:40, exemplified a conscientious attitude toward sports. Ambitious girls trekked into the upper recesses of the gym areas to play basketball, volleyball, badminton, hockey, and (at right) London Bridge is Falling Down. Keen competition forced the girls to experience the thrill of victory, or more often, the demoralizing sense of defeat. In addition to these strenuous activities, girls also participated in the more aesthetic sports, such as swimming, dance, and trampoline. Workouts were demanding, but the girls seemed to be quite enthusiastic, as evidenced by their high-spirited dash to the locker room after class.



Chris and Debby learn in their gym classes that badminton is a game of grace and skill.

"May I cut in?"

"Stop the game; my sock fell off."

"Block it, Chiquita!"

Swim classes teach synchronization in water ballet.

Special Services

H.P.H.S. welcomed a new principal this year as Dr. John W. Price joined our administration. Sincerely interested in the student body, Dr. Price has made a special effort to be aware of all activities in the school and all those individuals involved. He has introduced many liberal policies. Seniors, for the first time, received special privileges such as a "talk hall" and the chance to leave school when not scheduled for a class. In addition, this class was privileged with a number of humanities lectures by famous artists entitled the Star Lecture Series. The yearbook staff in particular would like to express its appreciation to Dr. Price for his constructive and sympathetic help throughout the year.

Although the computer that suggests colleges does not claim to be foolproof, it still represents one of many innovations inaugurated by the Guidance Department this year to help students plan their future. The most important innovation was Mr. Alexander, of course, the new college consultant from New York. As evidenced in the candid below, he quickly picked up the beat of H.P.H.S.

"If you think calculus is tough," said one underclassman, "you should see my first-year algebra book!"

The Mathematics Department at Highland Park never ceases to be challenging. Despite many teachers' affinities for telling offbeat anecdotes and farm stories, students learn an infinite amount of complex material. Although some found math rather Greek to them (especially those failing trigonometry), the majority regarded their equations as fascinating puzzles to solve. This year the department introduced new courses in computer mathematics and matrix algebra for students either seriously interested in the field, or simply interested in tackling something new. Plans for next year are still undisclosed, but Mr. Larry Brotzman, department chairman, has intimated to our yearbook interviewers that, contrary to popular rumor, x will still equal

"If you squirt me once more with that wash bottle, I'll . . ."

Such friendly repartee can oftentimes be heard as a visitor to Highland Park walks through the foul-smelling halls of the Science Department. Catching loose mice, cutting out DNA molecules, and solving Mech-Maxe's (example: q. What is a noble stuck in the mud? a. an erlenmeyer q. What is a bovine directory? a. a catalyst.) are all common "cultural" diversions of this branch of the school. No matter how dangerous experimentation may prove, explosive discussions also account for many casualties in the Science Department (such as regenerating planarians which don't quite make it). All in all, though, serious science students must agree that, despite stained sweaters, yellow hands, and radioactive arms, lab periods provide time for creativity and individual inspiration.

"Slavery did not cause the Civil War!"
"How do you know? Were you there?"

Despite what a casual observer might assume, the Social Studies Department is not truly belligerent. Avid history students usually prefer studying wars to fighting them. Courses offered to them this year ranged from Afro-Asian Studies to Sociology and Economics. In other words, friendly discussions covered such topics as Alexander Hamilton's sex-life; or, of course, the roads in Chile.

In addition to regular classroom work, the History Department sponsored many field trips outside of the school. For example, a number of students received tickets to a symposium on the draft, where they heard such eminent speakers as Senator Edward Kennedy and Margaret Mead. (Isn't it appropriate that the Draft Conference was held in the Windy City?).

The lab is only one of the numerous advantages offered by the language department to Highland Park students. A variety of courses are available, except of course, Russian and Chinese, because the John Birch Society has threatened to picket. Despite such difficulties, the department is always willing to experiment with new methods of teaching. In keen competition with Berlitz, both audio-lingual and classical approaches to language instruction are explored. Miss Elizabeth Joiner, department chairman, reminded our yearbook staff of the many practical applications of language studies. These are especially apparent in heated arguments with parents, when choice of words must be carefully watched.

"Double, double, toil and trouble. . ."
Macbeth, Act IV, Scene I

Shakespeare's quote quite precisely characterizes Highland Park students' feelings towards their themes, poetry analyses, and other such endeavors for our infamous English department. The strains of 3-3-3 paragraphs and detailed details are familiar to a large part of the student body, especially over the "cursed" weekends. Nevertheless, a survey has revealed that over half of the English students were reported alive at the end of the year. Even more encouraging, the Guidance Department, representative of Mrs. Malaprop, has discovered that many seniors are perspiring to become English majors next year in college; which all goes to show that, in spite of the work, everyone learned a "h - - - of a lot" in English class, as Jerry Grunska would say.

The music and art departments of Highland Park present a full spectrum of artistic opportunities for the creative student. In harmony with the new administration's liberal policies, these departments have been scored for a more prominent place in the school picture. After the sparkling debut of the summer humanities' program, popular acclaim demanded an extended engagement. As a result, a Fine Arts' Festival was scheduled in May. In addition, regular art displays were held in the main foyer and a new course in music theory was offered; all of which is cymbalic of the new forward look of music and art.

"Did you know the cafeteria lunches are very good for you? It says right here in my Home Ec. nutrition booklet . . . . . "

Food value is but one area of special knowledge gained from Home Economics courses at HPHS. Other skills include raiding the refrigerator when no one is looking, licking all the chocolate frosting bowls, and of course, sticking one's best friend with a pin when measuring her hem. Dear Mother and Father,

Everything is "bueno" here—the food, my family, school—and I am having a really "gutt" time. My only disappointment so far: I've been in Chicago for six months already, and I still haven't seen a gangster!

Few will question that American Field Service contributes to international understanding by bringing students from around the globe to spend a year in America. Highland Park hosted two students under the AFS program during the recent school year: Alfredo from Argentina, and Joachim from Germany. Dan, a foreign exchange student from England, spent a semester at HP as the guest of a local temple youth group.

AFS is supported through profits from Snack Bar, operated by the AFS Board. (Jr. boys: just remember—every ice cream bar might help to bring a beautiful blond from Finland to school next year!)

Girls' Club

"You already have three subscriptions to Modern Romances? Well, wouldn't you like to give one to your boyfriend as a Christmas present?"

Magazine Drive, probably the most well known activity of Girls' Club, is just one of many such projects sponsored by this organization. These include Mother-Daughter Banquet, this year entitled "Color Her Mom", Big-Little Sister Tea, scholarships for Senior girls, and typical of future homemakers, a "clean-up" campaign.

Boys' Club

"I can't be a waiter! My mom's going to be there, and if she sees me, she'll make me help at home too!"

In spite of a few sourpusses, most boys enjoy themselves as they serve the girls at Mother-Daughter Banquet, a traditional activity of Boys' Club. In addition, Boys' Club sponsors several Fun Nights over the year, where Highland Park students have the opportunity of swimming, jumping on the trampoline, and just generally letting loose.

Little Giant

Dear Editor,

I think Little Giant is great, so how about including free copies in our next issue of Shoreline? Love, Jack

From headlines to bylines to copylines to (whew!) deadlines, Little Giant does its best to capture the school year in pictures.

Despite numerous crises (where did you put that picture?—Another session picture??—Help!), the staff of Little Giant '67 worked hard to put out the best yearbook yet! (Though Shoreline comes out bi-weekly, and yearbook only comes out once—we try harder!)..

Shoreline

Dear Editor,

I think Shoreline is great, but how about plugging Little Giant in your next issue? (P.S. We have a whole page for you!) Love,
Leah

Shoreline, otherwise known as the "lifeline" of the school (interesting etymology!), has established for itself an excellent reputation as a high school newspaper. With daring exposes, (did you know that Linda Verin wore gym shoes to school for an entire day??) Shoreline covers the news of the moment with originality and force.

Linda Verin (managing ed.), Jack White (editor-in-chief), Dr. John Munski (faculty advisor), Mike Linderman (associate ed.), Jamie Pellar (associate ed.).

"Meet Huga,

He finds Wendy and Glady's lap quite comfortable (wouldn't any male?). Almost deceptively docile, Huga is actually a rather active frog. He swims, dances, tumbles, plays innumerable sports, sponsors playdays, a Christmas Party, the Father-Daughter Banquet, and H.G.A. Initiation; all as mascot of that club. Which one? Why, Girls' Athletics, of course."

Garrick

"We're just some fine and dandy, healthy normal, patriotic American kids."

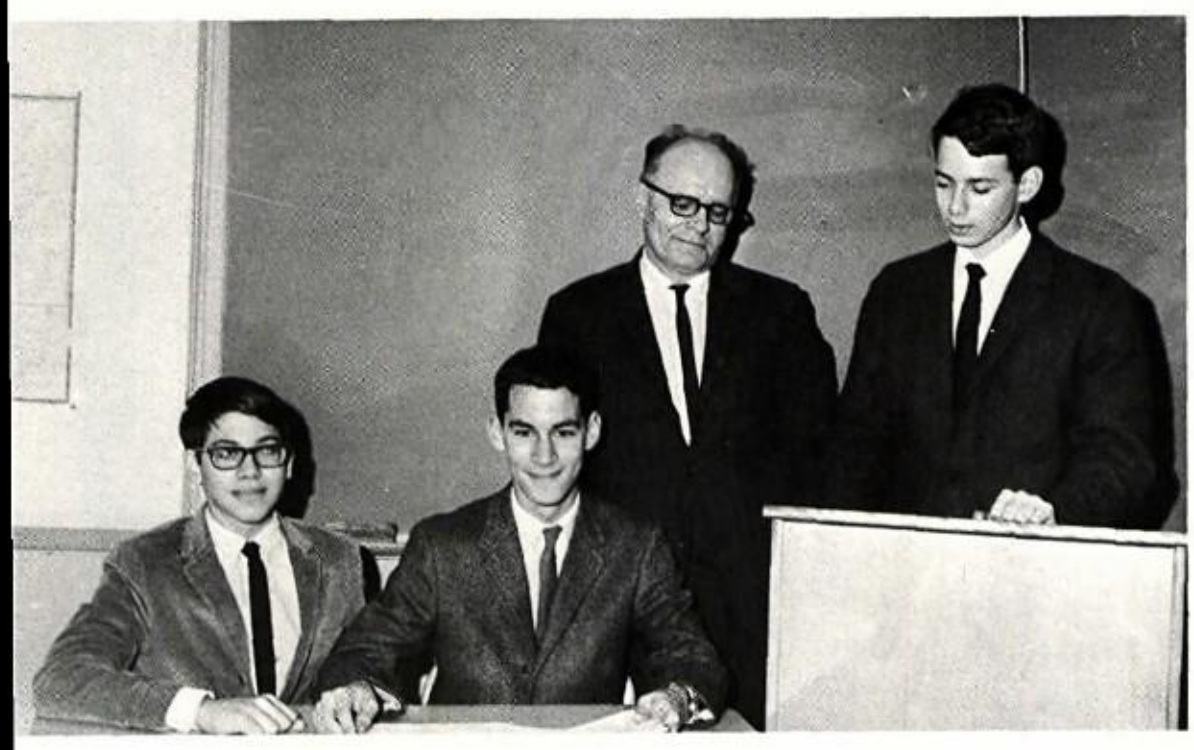
Literary Club

'We all thought it was excellent, but honestly, sn't 739 pages a little too long for the Literary Review?"

In addition to compiling the Literary Review, this club sponsors creative writing sessions and discussions on new literary works of merit. Officers are Lynn Friedman (pres.), Mr. Heinzelman (sponsor), Nancy Fieldman (vice pres.), Ken Finder (treas.), Jon Bass (sec.)



Debate Club

"Resolved: From this date on, up stairways shall be down, down stairways shall be up, and never the twain shall meet."

Needless to say, Highland Park Debate Club is a bit more eloquent than that. This year the debate topic was Resolved: The United States should limit foreign aid to non-military assistance. The officers of this argumentative group are Bill Holliday (sec.), Scott Glabman (vice pres.), Mr. McGivern (sponsor), Bob Flax (pres.).

Stage Crew

"(whisper) Hey, you guys, smile pretty. The curtains are stuck."

The members of Stage Crew, though always behind the scenes, really know their stuff when it comes to pulling ropes. Famous for flashing questionable shapes on the curtains before an assembly, this club operates the lighting and stage effects used in all school productions. Pictured here, in appropriate setting, are officers, BACK ROW: Richard W. Grossman (vice pres., stage manager), Larry Leviton (sec.-treas.), Stan Katz (pres.). FRONT ROW: Leon Zar (chief audio), Leonard Berger (chief electrician).

Folk Club

"I don't give a 'hoot' about Bach; he was simply uncultured. Imagine —not one piece composed for the guitar!"

Hootenannies and guitars represent standard equipment for the musically inclined Folk Club. Dedicated to the ethnic "grass-roots" sound are the officers are Meg Conway (sec.-treas.), Merrill Levine (vice pres.), David Nemer (pres.), Mr. Walker (sponsor)

Broadcasting Club

"I'll take Collins in the fourth. . ."

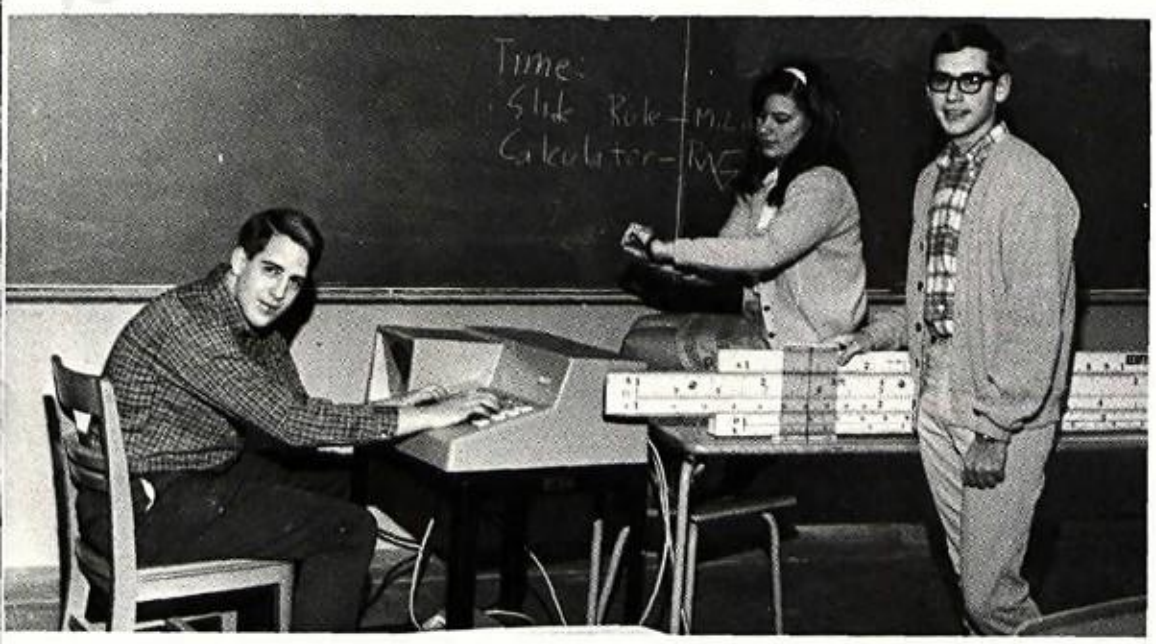
Disc jockey Chuck Collins was often spotted racing around school, putting the "Voice of Little Giant" on the air. Along with the other members of Broadcasting Club, Highland Parkers were treated to their own personalized radio show. Officers of the newly-formed club are Bob Luskin (prog. director), Chuck (pres.), Myles Falkof (chief engineer), and Judy Glickauf (assistant prog. director and traffic man).

F. T. A.

"If I were a teacher, I promise I'd give all A's on tests, never write personnel forms, never give homework over vacation and always announce my "pop" quizzes beforehand. Amen."

The preceding proclamation, a pre-requisite for membership in FTA, indicates the idealism and dedication of America's future instructors. Not satisfied with the Highland Park freshman courses, this club took a field trip to Wayne Thomas School, where its members were able to observe real grade-school classes. Other activities include guest speakers and Student-Teacher Exchange Day.

FTA
Debbie Schloss (sec.), Jill Potter, Barb Elliott (pres.), Lynn Reisler (pub. chairman) ABSENT: Sue Hirsch.



Math Club
Richard W. Grossman (pres.), Shelley Korshak (sec.), Mark Levy (vice pres.).

Math Club

"Come on! If you join Math Club, you can have a computer do your math homework for you."

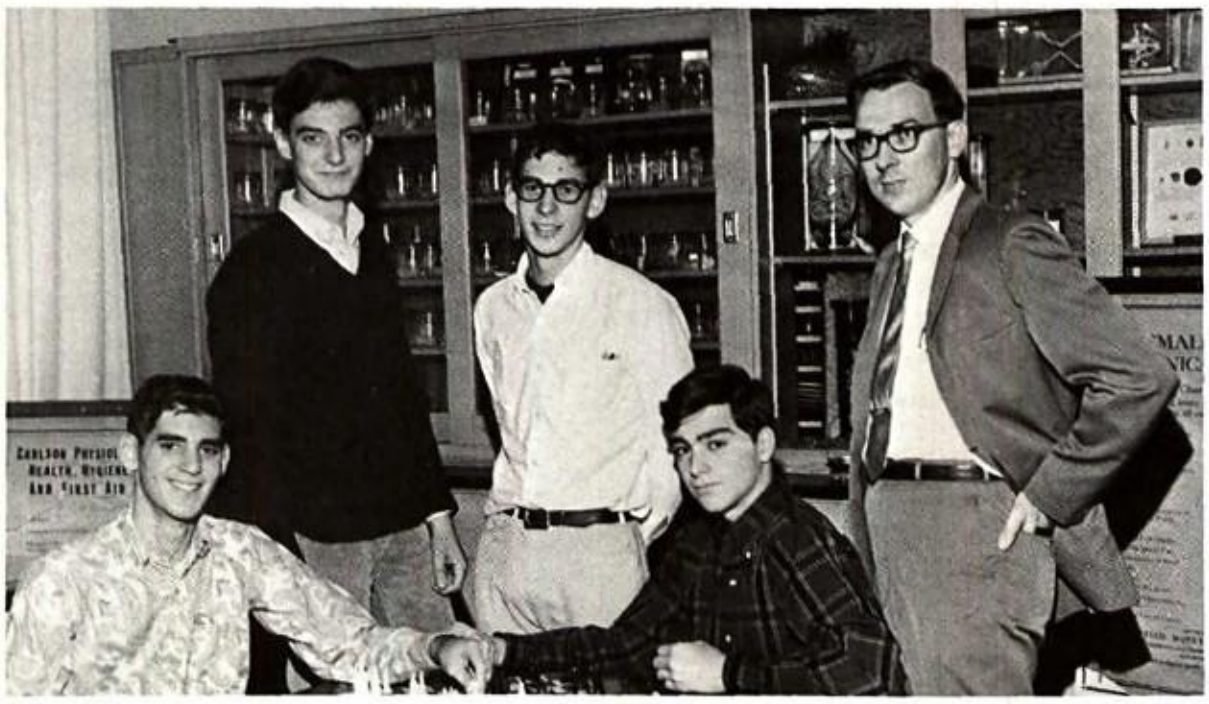
Study of computers was the central theme of Math Club this year, as members learned about programming and the theory behind computer operation. Besides working with these modern mechanical brains, the Math Club tackled many of those thorny proofs and theorems inevitably labeled "beyond the scope of this text." Although as yet unconfirmed, rumor has it that the next Math Club project will be an attempt to teach a computer how to write a 3-3-3 theme!

Science Club

"Are you doing anything tonight, Mary?" (friendly)
"No, John. Why do you ask?" (sweetly)
"I was wondering if you'd wash out my test tubes for me."

H.P.H.S. Science Club is an experiment in thrilling discovery. To the clang of test tubes and flasks, the pioneering members of this club approach the lab desks with creative zeal. Not all efforts produce successful results, but honestly, Einstein wasn't brilliant at that age either.

Science Club
Lynn Goldberg (pres.), Sharyn Ellman (prog. chairman), Mr. Hansen (spons.), ABSENT: Leonard Berger (prog. chairman).



Chess Club

Chess Club

"A close analysis of the chessboard will reveal that MY queen has YOUR king checkmated. Thus, one may safely conclude from this evidence that, as usual, the WOMAN has the upper hand."

The members of Chess Club, rooted in medieval fantasy, know quite well what is the "thinking man's" sport. Chivalrous knights (disguised as Highland Park students) challenge each other for control of the squares every Thursday. Meetings are held in the Science Department. While this might be a bit unconventional, members would rather joust than switch.

Photography Club

"You can't stand there and tell me ... there wasn't any film in the camera?"

Photography Club attempts to expose what is going on around the school. Armed with shutters, lenses, exposures, light meters, film, batteries, tripods, ad infinitum, the courageous members of this club battle camera "hams" that refuse to look candid; crowds in the halls that knock down equipment; and inevitably, the flash that does not go off. Then comes the dark room where the solutions all get contaminated; the negatives are lost, and someone opens the door to the bright, glaring hallway just as the picture was almost ready. Even so, picture-taking has its revealing moments.

Photography Club
STANDING: Glen Fineman (sec.-treas.), Jim Diamond (sergeant-at-arms),
SEATED: Tom Spitz (vice pres.), Ralph Feldstein (pres.).

Bridge Club
Ritch Addison (pres.), Ed Davidson (vice pres.), Andy Simon (tournament director), Bill Anspach (sec.-treas.)

Bridge Club

"Quick! Put the chips away and act like you're playing bridge."

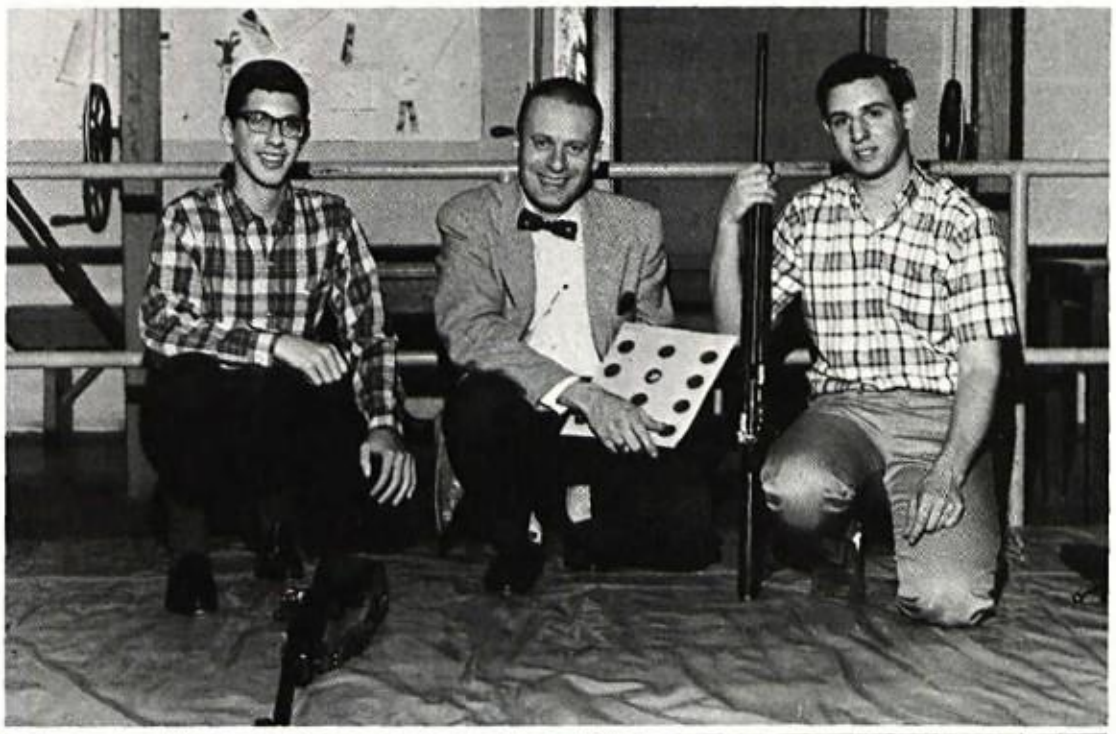
H.P.H.S. Bridge Club is truly for those with distinctive taste. A most renowned lifemaster, Charles Goren, lauded the club as simply "superb." Cassius Clay, after attending one of the club's beginner clinics, mentioned that only an ignoramous would fail to grasp the fundamentals of the game as elucidated by Ritch Addison, president. "The tournaments are outstanding, too," affirmed the Illinois Bridge Association. Highland Park Bridge Club just can't be beat.

(The preceding was a paid political announcement by the officers of the club.)

Rifle Clubs

'Gosh I'm sorry, but—you've got to admit, it was a good shot."

Girls' and Boys' Rifle Clubs, after teaching their members basic safety habits, instruct them in becoming accurate marksmen. The officers of the Boys' club are Ed Hoffman (vice pres.), Mr. Eiseman (sponsor), Leonard Berger (pres.), absent is David Bartholomew (sec.-treas.). Those of the Girls' Club are Bonnie Nelson (sec.-treas.), Lynn Slowinski (vice pres.), Miss Tank (sponsor), Carol Blank (pres.).



Creative Arts Club

After intense concentration, coupled with complex, manipulation of hand, brush, easel, paint and other particulars, the frustrated Highland Park student came to the conclusion—"I can't draw!"

Despite paint on clothes, hair, books and each other, Creative Arts Club offers its members varied opportunities to exercise their artistic talents through workshops and art shows. Officers of the club (above) are Fran Padorr (sec.-treas.), Marcia Zucker (pres.), Dede Rau (pub. chrmn.), Jennifer Fell (vice pres.)

Library Club

"I'm embarrassed to take a book out of the library! Did you see that picture on my ID card?"

Behind the smooth-running façade of our library lurks an undercover (get it?) organization. The members of this club keep the library in good order, send out overdue notices and check out books for the students. Officers (below) are Miss Higgins (sponsor), Ralph Gibson (pres.), Sandra Schranz, (sec.), Barb Berman (vice pres.), Bartley Berngard (treas.)

GRADS

"We're graduating! That means we're mature, huh!"

Seniors

365 days . . . 210 days . . . 137 days . . . 26 days . . . "Now wait a minute—That's cheating! You're not counting the weekends!"

Waiting for graduation did seem endless, but despite senior anxiety, the year actually came to an end. Of course, the class of '67 was instrumental in making it a successful one. Senior projects included the sponsoring of Night Life (Stunts '66), the Literary Review, and "most important", (ahem!), Little Giant.

If given no other distinction, this year was certainly novel. For Sr. girls, it meant Sat. night babysitting jobs (or a movie with the gals?). Sr. boys, however, needn't be so cocky—wait 'til next year!

In Memory of Cathy Kroll

For what is to die but to stand naked in the wind and to melt into the sun?
Only when you drink from the river of silence shall you indeed sing.
And when the earth shall claim your limbs, then shall you truly dance.

—And so, with tongue in cheek (and inhibitions unchecked), Little Giant staff '67 stalked the halls in an attempt to capture the hidden jester of HPHS. All things considered, we had a wry time doing it. As editor, however, I would like to extend special thanks to—

Darryl, Jon, and Bob, for their co-operative and inspirational moments . . .
Mr. Robert Hyson, representative from Taylor Publishing Co., for his professional advice . . .
Walinger's Studios, for our senior portraits, and large group pictures . . .
The House of Vision, for lending us a pair of glassless specs . . .
The Highland Park Herald, for football pictures on pages 34-5 . . .
Mr. Royer and Dr. Munski, for patiently burning the midnight oil with us . . .

Of course, I am most deeply grateful to my staff; especially Lynne, Deb K, Marcy, Carla, Andy, Deb L, and Jeff. Nothing would have been complete without their spirited, cheerful help. Though we had a lot of work, I suspect they enjoyed themselves as much as I did in the mirthful yearbook atmosphere.

We have finished—judgment now lies with you. Bonne chance!

Leah
